Tomorrow could be too late...

- If you're mad with someone and nobody's there to fix the situation... You fix it. Maybe today, that person still wants to be your friend... and if you don't, tomorrow could be too late.
- If you're in love with somebody, but that person doesn't know... tell her/him. Maybe today, that person is also in love with you... and if you don't say it, tomorrow could be too late.
- If you still love a person that you think has forgotten you... tell her/him. Maybe that person has always loved you... and if you don't tell her/him today, tomorrow could be too late.
- If you really have friends who you appreciate... tell them. Maybe they appreciate you as well. If you don't and they leave or go far away today, tomorrow could be too late.
- If you love your parents, and never had the chance to show them... do it. Maybe you have them there to show them how you feel. If you don't and they leave today, then tomorrow could be too late.

St. Sylvester

Feast day: December 31

St. Sylvester, born in Rome, was ordained by Pope St. Marcellinus during the peace that preceded the persecutions of Diocletian. He passed through those days of terror, witnessed the abdication of Diocletian and Maximian, and saw the triumph of Constantine in the year 312. Two years later he succeeded St. Melchiades as Bishop of Rome. In the same year, he sent four legates to represent him at the great Council of the Western Church, held at Aries. He confirmed it's decision and imparted them to the Church.

The Council of Nice was assembled during his reign, in the year 325, but not being able to assist at it in person, on account of his great age, he sent his legates, who headed the list of subscribers to its decrees, preceding the Patriarchs of Alexandria and Antioch. St. Sylvester was Pope for twenty-four years and eleven months. He died in the year 335. His Feast Day is December 31st.
