The Power of the Family Dinner

Times are hard, and people are busy. Few of us have the luxury of enjoying a full, sit-down meal every night of the week, surrounded by loved ones and relaxed conversation.

Yet, research has illustrated the critically important role the family dinner plays in a child's development. Study after study shows that kids who dine with their families on a regular basis are healthier, less likely to be overweight, and less likely to smoke, drink or use drugs.

In addition, kids who are treated to a family dinner are also more likely to do well in school and just plain feel happier. Dining with parents offers kids yet another benefit: Kids learn conversational skills, manners and values. Even if you can't do it every day, dine as a family as often as possible.

Perhaps the most important thing parents can "Serve Up" to their kids at dinnertime is their presence and attention.

God bless all who raise children in these uncertain times!

Saint Polycarp of Smyrna

Feastday: February 23

Polycarp was a holy man and bishop of Smyrna. One day, during a bloody martyrdom, the crowd became so mad that they demanded more blood by crying, "Down with the Christians; let Polycarp be found. Polycarp was persuaded to leave the city and hide.

While praying he saw a vision of his pillow turned to fire and announced to his friends that the dream meant he would be burned alive. His pursuers found him by torturing two boys. The proconsul begged the eighty-six-year-old Polycarp to give up his religion to save himself, Polycarp answered, "If you imagine that I will swear by Caesar, you do not know who I am. Let me tell you plainly, I am a Christian."

Because of Polycarp's lack of fear, the proconsul told him he would be burned alive. When he was tied up to be burned, Polycarp prayed. The fire was lit as Polycarp said Amen and then the eyewitnesses who reported said they saw a miracle. The fire burst up in an arch around Polycarp, the flames surrounding him like sails, and instead of being burned he seemed to glow like bread baking, or gold being melted in a furnace. When the captors saw he wasn't being burned, they stabbed him. The blood that flowed put the fire out.

2011 ST. MARON FEAST

Our Lady of Lebanon celebrated the 1600 anniversary of the Feast of St. Maron Saturday, February 12th. In honor of this special event, Bishop Earl Boyea, of the Catholic Diocese of Lansing came and officiated at mass and shared in the ceremonies. Over 280 people including many clergy and local and national dignitaries attended to honor Mr. Joseph Faris, a founding member, of our parish with the Silver Massabki Award - one of the highest honors bestowed on a member of the National Apostolate of Maronites. A special acknowledgement was given to Deacon Marty and Nina Rachid for their dedication and work for our parish. The parish council, supported by the ladies and men of the parish, provided the food for the evening, and dinner was followed by music and dancing. We would like to thank all of the volunteers who worked organizing, decorating and cooking for this event making this a St. Maron's Feast to remember.
