All Are Significant

While a student in nursing school, Joann Jones learned a lesson about the importance of every person.

In a letter to Guideposts magazine, Jones told of a professor who gave a surprise quiz one day. The student nurse did fine until the last question stumped her. It read: “What is the first name of the woman who cleans the school?” Like most of her classmates, she left it blank.

When asked about it, the professor admonished the students, “In your careers, you will meet many people. All are significant. They deserve your attention and care, even if all you do is smile and say “Hello.”

Joann Jones never forgot that lesson – or that the woman’s name was Dorothy.

Pay attention to all the people around you because they have a right to be recognized as unique individuals. Part of your own uniqueness is expressed in the way you treat others.

St. Cecilia

November 22nd

There was a virgin in Rome named Cecilia, who was given in marriage to a youth named Valerian. She wore sackcloth next to her skin, and fasted, and invoked the saints and angels and virgins, beseeching them to guard her virginity. And she said to her husband, "I will tell you a secret if you will swear not to reveal it to anyone." And when he swore, she added, "There is an angel who watches me, and wards off from me any who would touch me." He said, "If this is true, show me the angel." She said, "It can only be if you will believe in one God, and be baptized."

She sent him to Pope Urban, who baptized him. When he returned, he saw Cecilia praying in her chamber, and an angel by her with flaming wings, holding two crowns of roses and lilies, which he placed on their heads, and then vanished. Shortly after, Tibertius, the brother of Valerian, entered, and wondered at the fragrance and beauty of the flowers at that season of the year. When he heard the story, he also consented to be baptized. After their baptism the two brothers devoted themselves to burying the martyrs slain daily by the prefect of the city. They were arrested and brought before the prefect, and when they refused to sacrifice to the gods were executed.

St. Cecilia, converted four hundred persons, whom Pope Urban baptized. Cecilia was arrested, and condemned to be suffocated in the baths. She was shut in for a night and a day, and the fires were heaped up, and made to glow and roar, but Cecilia did not even break out in perspiration from the heat. When Almachius heard this he sent an executioner to cut off her head in the bath. The man struck her three times without being able to sever the head from her body. He left her bleeding, and she lived three days. Crowds came to her, and collected her blood with napkins and sponges, while she preached to them or prayed. At the end of that period she died, and was buried by Pope Urban and his deacons.
