The Wisdom of a Prayerful Man

Father William Lynch was the spiritual director at Sacred Heart Seminary for all four years that I was a student there. “The Rule” mandated that each seminarian seek his direction once a month, at least, as part of priestly formation.

My meetings with Father began as a gripe session where I whined about the rigors of seminary life. My complaint one day concerned a fellow-seminarian. It went like this:

“Father, I see this guy saying his prayers ... as we all do ... participating in the common spiritual exercises. But then ... when prayers are over ... he gossips about the professors with his sarcastic remarks. Father, isn’t prayer supposed to make a person better ... even holy? Well, in his case, it’s not working!”

This was Father Lynch’s kindly reply: “Of course, Earl, we do not judge other people. But let me suggest a solution to this religious paradox you present.

It is very possible that someone can fully participate in all our spiritual exercises ... morning prayer and meditation, the Mass, spiritual readings, rosary, examination of conscience, vespers ... and yet that person may never really be at prayer.

You look surprised. Well, you see, prayer is not a multiplication of words, even holy words. It is not a bunch of activities. It is something I call ‘spiritual mindfulness’ ...

Just consciously being in the presence of God while doing ... nothing.

If our friend, or if you yourself Earl, would spend twenty minutes every day being aware that 'the Lord is with thee' ... he/you, would become better. Living with God in your mind absolutely ... guaranteed ... makes you a good, maybe even a holy person."

My monthly talks with Father Lynch changed a good deal after that session. I seemed to find fewer and fewer things to complain about. What I did find, and what I now miss, is a spiritual director with the wisdom of a prayerful man. I miss Father William Lynch.

Prayer to St. Michael the Archangel

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle.

Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil.

May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do Thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host - by the Divine Power of God - cast into hell, Satan and all the evil spirits, who roam throughout the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

2011 MYO Children's Halloween Party

Our Lady of Lebanon Children's Halloween Party, Sunday, October 30th was a lot of fun for everyone. The children played games, ate pizza and went home with lots of candy. Thank you to Johnny Solomon, Noha Zerka and the MYO for making this event possible. Also thanks to all who donated food and candy and money to help cover the costs of the party. Be sure to check out additional photos on the bulletin board next to the office!

Saint Mennas — Feast Day November 11th

Saint Mennas the Martyr and Wonder-worker is one of the most well-known Egyptian saints in the East and the West, due to the many miracles that are attributed to his intercession and prayers. His feast day is celebrated November 11th.

Mennas was born in Egypt in 285 AD, in the city of Niceous (Nakiyos or Nikiu), which lies in the vicinity of Memphis. His parents were ascetic Christians but did not have any children for a long time. His father's name was Eudoxios and his mother's name was Euphemia. On the feast of the Virgin Mary, Euphemia was praying in front of an icon of Saint Mary with tears that God may give her a blessed son. A sound came from the icon saying "Amen". A few months later, Euphemia gave birth to a boy and named him Mennas.

Eudoxios, a ruler of one of the administrative divisions of Egypt, died when Mennas was fourteen years old. At the age of fifteen Mennas joined the Roman army, and was given a high rank due to his father's reputation. His appointment was in Algeria. Three years later he left the army longing to devote his whole life to Christ. He headed towards the desert to live a different kind of life.

After spending five years as a hermit, Mennas saw in a revelation the angels crowning the martyrs with glamorous crowns, and longed to join those martyrs. While he was thinking about it, he heard a voice saying: "Blessed are you Mennas because you have been called to the pious life from your childhood. You shall be granted three immortal crowns; one for your celibacy, another for your asceticism, and a third for your martyrdom." Mennas subsequently hurried to the ruler, declaring his Christian faith. His endless sufferings and the tortures that he went through have attracted many of the pagans, not only to Christianity, but also to martyrdom.

The soldiers who executed Mennas set his body to fire for three days but the body remained unharmed. Mennas' sister then bribed the soldiers and managed to carry the body away. She embarked on a ship heading to Alexandria, where she placed the saint's body in a church.

When the time of persecution ended, during the papacy of Pope Athanasius of Alexandria, an angel appeared to the Pope and ordered him to load Mennas' body on a camel and head towards the Western Desert. At a certain spot near a well at the end of Lake Mariout, not far from Alexandria, the camel stopped and wouldn't move. The Christians took this a sign from God and buried Mennas' body there.
